Dear Sirs,

Consultation Paper on Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Reporting Guide

The Institute welcomes the HKEx initiative on developing ESG reporting guidelines. This recognizes the increasing importance of ESG issues to company valuations and of the development and implementation of areas of corporate reporting on these issues that is occurring globally. The Institute is pleased to have the opportunity to comment on the HKEx proposals.

Hong Kong will benefit from the introduction of a consistent approach to ESG reporting which is practical for low-cap companies. The HKEx proposals provide a welcome starting point. There are, however, a few areas that the Institute believes need to be further considered in formulating final guidance.

- The guide is mainly a list of Key Performance Indicators (KPI). There is risk that this will lead to a 'tick box' response where companies provide data without making it clear what their key ESG issues are.
- In preparing its ESG guide HKEx has taken items from different international standards. It notes that companies may adopt a 'higher standard' instead of the guide and mentions the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI), the UN Global Compact, ISO 26000 Guidance on Social Responsibility, OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the Carbon Disclosure Project. This mixture of standards adds complexity and inconsistency. The Institute would encourage HKEx to make its ESG guide a subset of GRI's framework for two reasons. Firstly it is the only one of the 'international standards' quoted by HKEx which provides a comprehensive set of KPI definitions. Secondly, GRI has become the 'de facto' global standard for ESG reporting with many more companies following it than any other system.

If the HKEx's reporting guideline is a subset of GRI then it is easier for companies using it to graduate to reporting to a GRI Application Level and thus gain greater credibility for their reporting.

- HKEx leaves it for companies to define each KPI rather than providing supporting information. This makes the ESG guide more difficult to implement than adopting a subset of GRI where such guidance is provided. This re-inventing of the wheel is also likely to result in inconsistent reporting from one company to the next.
- HKEx should apply its successful approach to internal control and risk management to ESG reporting. Namely, it should ask for statements in Annual Reports that: 'the Board considers the Company's most significant ESG issues to be []'. The statement should explain the process the Board followed to arrive at this conclusion and discuss the action that is being taken on the issues. This simple requirement will lead many Boards to ensure the management of their company has appropriate procedures for identifying and managing ESG issues.
- HKEx does not recommend companies to seek independent assurance on the ESG information they report given the cost of such assurance and the absence of other Stock Exchanges encouraging assurance. ESG information is, however, becoming increasingly important to company valuations and assurance improves its quality so it is difficult to see why independent assurance should not be a best practice.

Specific answers to the questions set out by the HKEx are attached and should be read in the overall context of the comments set out above. In respect of the questions on individual KPIs we have not provided answers as we believe the adoption of KPIs should be driven by the factors set out in our overall comments above.

If you require any clarification on the above comments, please do not hesitate to contact me at chris@hki CPA.org.hk.

Yours faithfully,

Chris Joy

Content of the proposed Environmental, Social and Governance Reporting Guide

Introduction

3. Do you agree with the Introduction section?

The proposed Introduction section states:

1. This guide sets out Environmental, Social and Governance (“ESG”) subject areas, aspects, general disclosure and key performance indicators (“KPIs”).
2. This guide is not comprehensive. We encourage an issuer to identify and disclose additional ESG issues and KPIs that are relevant to its business. It may also refer to existing international ESG reporting guidance for its relevant industry or sector.
3. An issuer may adopt a higher level of ESG reporting based on international guidance and standards.
4. An issuer may disclose the ESG information in its annual report regarding the same period covered in the annual report, or in a separate report, in print or on its website. Where the information is included in a separate report, an issuer is free to report on any period.
5. It is important to involve the board of directors in preparing the ESG report. The board of directors is responsible for ESG reporting but it may delegate the task of compiling the ESG report to its employees or a committee that reports to the board.

Yes

No

If your answer is “No”, please give reasons and alternative views.

See the overall comments provided in the covering letter

General Approach

4. Do you agree with the guidance under the General Approach section?

The proposed General Approach section states:

Identify subject areas, aspects and indicators that are relevant

8. Not all ESG subject areas, aspects and KPIs in this Guide may be relevant to an issuer's business. Also, some may be more important to an issuer's business than others. For example, product responsibility, an ESG aspect, may be important to a retailer.
9. The ESG report could prioritise ESG subject areas, aspects and KPIs that are material in the context of its corporate strategy, which could be given prominence in the report.
10. It is unnecessary to report on all subject areas, aspects and KPIs. An issuer could identify and report on relevant ESG subject areas, aspects and KPIs that have material environmental and social impacts. Materiality can be addressed in strategic, operational and financial terms.

Engage stakeholders

11. It is important to engage stakeholders to identify material aspects and KPIs and understand their views. Stakeholders are parties that have interests in or are affected by the decisions and activities of an issuer. They may include shareholders (including independent shareholders), business partners, employees, suppliers, sub-contractors, consumers, regulators and the public.
12. The ESG report could disclose the issuer's stakeholders and the basis for their identification. It may also disclose the activities the issuer has arranged to engage stakeholders, the objectives and how it has responded to stakeholders' views. Stakeholder engagement may be conducted through meetings (e.g. personal or annual general meetings), conferences, workshops, advisory committees, round-table discussions, focus groups, questionnaires, web-based forums and written consultations.
13. The ESG report may also disclose a mechanism for stakeholders to provide feedback.

Yes

No

If your answer is "No", please give reasons and alternative views.

Reporting guidance

5. Do you agree with the guidance under the Reporting Guidance section?

The proposed Reporting Guidance section states:

Scope of reporting

14. The ESG report could state which entities in the group and/or which operations have been included for the report. If there is change in the scope, the issuer could explain the difference and reason for change.

Approaches to reporting

15. Once an issuer starts reporting, it could continue to do so regularly. The aspects and KPIs reported could be consistent for each period or there could be an explanation of the changes. An issuer may also explain why some aspects and KPIs are not reported.
16. An ESG report could state the issuer's ESG management approach, strategies, priorities, objectives and explain how they relate to its business. It could discuss the issuer's management, measurement and monitoring system to implement its ESG strategies.
17. An ESG report could also discuss ESG opportunities, risks, challenges and how they are addressed. For example, a telecommunication company may see an opportunity to promote teleconferencing as an alternative to travel due to climate change concerns. An information and technology company may see the damage to its reputation from a breach in consumer privacy as an ESG risk.

Reporting on line items

18. The Guide does not provide a definition for each KPI. An issuer could explain how the KPIs are calculated and include information that is necessary for interpreting the KPIs. It may use the same definition and calculation method each period for comparison over time. If there is a change to the definition or calculation method, the issuer could explain the difference and reason for the change.
19. Over time, an issuer may present time series of data for comparison over a period already reported on. The time period used may be consistent for every report.
20. An issuer may report line items with objective and representative industry benchmarks.
21. Quantitative information could be presented in a table format.

Yes

No

If your answer is "No", please give reasons and alternative views.

Agree in principle with most of the guidance but suggest that there should be commitment to a set on KPIs i.e. GRI that would enhance consistency of reporting between entities.
