Weingüter Wegeler:

Wegeler is a 4 generation family run estate located along the Rhine and the Mosel river banks. This estate is separated into two locations, in Rheingau and Mosel. With passion in wine, quality is the philosophy and inspiring the work today, just like 130 years ago when the estate was founded. Only Riesling is planted in these vineyards and most of the work in Rheingau is done by hand, whereas all the work in Mosel is by hand due to the extreme steep and challenging environments.

Moselle wines are fermented in cooled stainless steel tanks with the addition of cultured as well as wild yeasts. In the Rheingau estate, specially selected wines are additionally matured in large barrels of aged oak. Reductive maturing in the stainless steel tank preserves the prevailing fruit perfumes together with the wines' distinct character and elegance.

Domaine Zind Humbrecht:

Winemakers for generations, the Humbrecht family has been working on the greatest terroirs of Alsace since 1620. The domaine was founded in 1959 and now owns 40 hectares of vineyards, including 4 Grand Crus: Rangen, Goldert, Hengst and Brand, as well as other premium sites. There are 22 persons working full time to farm these vineyards biodynamically to obtain small yields of ripe, concentrated and balanced berries suitable to produce great wines.

Fermentation takes place slowly in large oak vats followed by a minimum 6 months of maturation on lees for all wines which will be bottled 12 to 24 months after the harvest. In recent years the denomination "Calcaire" (French word for limestone) has appeared as a supplement to the single-vineyard labels. The purpose of this new range is to show varietal expressions of limestone terroirs using the young or "declassified" vines deemed not qualified to produce the top single-vineyard wines, in the current owner and winemaker Olivier Humbrecht's high standard. For example, Gewurztraminer Calcaire actually comes from the young vines of Hengst Grand Cru, while the Pinot Gris Calcaire is from the Clos Windsbuhl. Needless to say these are bargain wines offering top quality for affordable prices.
